District Application for Participation in MIBLSI Integrated Model

What Is Michigan's Integrated Behavior and Learning Support Initiative (MIBLSI)?

Michigan's Integrated Behavior and Learning Support Initiative (MIBLSI) is funded by the Michigan Department of Education, Office of Special Education and is also funded through various grants from the U.S. Department of Education. MIBLSI is a technical assistance center that works on behalf of Michigan Department of Education to scale-up an integrated Multi-Tiered System of Supports (MTSS) framework. There are two components to the work of MIBLSI: (1) getting effective reading and behavior support into standard educational practice and (2) developing educational systems to support the successful use (fidelity), sustainability, and scale-up of these practices.

This current application focuses on participation for local educational agencies (LEAs), also called districts. The district's participation is critical for creating environments that ensure students are accessing effective practices. It is the district that provides for management of resources, priority for initiatives, and problem solving around implementation challenges.

I. Overview of Application for Participation

This application is intended for districts seeking MIBLSI intensive technical assistance in the implementation of an integrated behavior and reading MTSS framework. Participation will involve a structured process for District Implementation Teams to develop and manage an implementation plan to scale-up an MTSS integrated behavior and reading framework with fidelity and that will endure over time. Funding and additional resources are not available through MIBLSI to participating districts beyond the project-sponsored technical assistance and professional development.

Benefits of Participation

Participation with MIBLSI will assist the district in developing a continuum of supports for implementation in the following areas:

- Common vision within the district that aligns the beliefs and practices needed to support schools through the implementation of an MTSS framework.

- Development of infrastructures within districts and within schools that are necessary to address the continuum of student and staff needs.

- Long-range plan for supporting MTSS implementation that includes mechanisms to:

    - Provide vision/direction for the implementation of the practices that are integrated and aligned with key district initiatives.

    - Allocate resources to adequately implement MTSS with fidelity.

    - Assist in developing capacity to support the implementation of the practices.

    - Collect and analyze data that measures the impact of supports on implementation fidelity and student outcomes.

- Alignment with key initiatives at the state and national levels (e.g., Read by Grade Three legislation, state-wide efforts to improve literacy outcomes such as, the GELN Essentials, state-wide coaching network, MDE Top 10 in 10 Goals & Strategies, Michigan's Special Education Reform Taskforce, and Every Student Succeeds Act).

Who Should Apply

The MIBLSI project promotes a "district-wide" model to implement the data, systems, and practices necessary for an integrated behavior and reading MTSS framework. This does not mean that every school must adopt the MIBLSI supported MTSS work at the same time. Instead, the district shares ownership for developing readiness and supports across the schools to achieve district-wide results that can include dividing the schools in the district into two cohorts with staggered starts across two school years.

Districts may wish to apply to partner with MIBLSI after considering the following:

- Desire to implement an MTSS framework that integrates Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports (PBIS) and Scientifically-Based Reading Research that is consistent with the findings outlined in Institute of Education Science practice guides (e.g., "Foundational Skills to Support Reading for Understanding in Kindergarten Through 3rd Grade") and the language that is found within the Read by Grade Three legislation.

- Previous experience and sustained implementation after participating with MIBLSI (either in the school-cohort model or the intermediate school district (ISD) model).

- Ability to identify personnel who have sufficient time to provide MTSS coordination, coaching, and data coordination to support the schools with their implementation efforts.

- Ability to have school staff (District Implementation Team, School Leadership Teams, coaches, data coordinators, and other staff when applicable) travel to a regional location to attend professional learning sessions to learn how to implement behavior and reading components of an MTSS framework. (For the scope and sequence of professional learning sessions see the application webpage (https://miblsi.org/application).

- Ability to adopt specific required measures and data systems necessary for engaging in data-based problem solving at the school and district levels. (See Appendix A of this application and the Rationale for Required Assessments on the application webpage (https://miblsi.org/application).

- Sustained commitment to support staff across the district to implement the MTSS components that include maintaining a focus on a multi-year professional learning and data-based problem-solving series that will lead to high quality implementation and create the conditions for sustainability.

- Appropriate timeline for applying to partner with MIBLSI (e.g., this application cycle vs. next year's application cycle) by considering the current priorities and level of change if the district is in the process of district reconfiguration and/or leadership or staff turnover.

Charter schools may wish to apply to partner with the MIBLSI project provided the following are addressed:

- Decision making authority for resource allocation to support the work – meaning there is not another entity that makes these decisions for the charter school that would not be a direct part of this work.

Who Should NOT Apply

- ISDs/Regional Educational Service Agencies (RESAs): Unlike the previous MIBLSI application process from 2010-2015, this application is targeted towards district applicants. However, there are still mechanisms for ISDs to support their constituent districts seeking a partnership with MIBLSI. The ways in which an ISD can support districts in their implementation efforts and steps for contributing to a district's application are outlined in the next section of this application.

- Districts seeking to focus their efforts either solely on the implementation of a three-tiered behavioral framework or a three-tiered reading framework. The intent of this application is for districts seeking partnership to implement an integrated behavior and reading MTSS framework. This means the behavior and reading components across each tier will be addressed simultaneously as opposed to being addressed in isolation.

- Districts seeking to access training and supports to only a portion of the schools within their district (e.g., training for an individual high school or an individual elementary school) and not seeking to build district implementation capacity.

- Districts that are either unable to directly allocate dedicated personnel to provide MTSS implementation supports in the form of coordination, coaching, and data coordination support or the ISD/RESA is unable to provide some of the support functions. (The ISD supports are outlined in the next section.)

II. How to Complete This Application

Applications must be submitted online using the application survey on MIBLSI's website. Applications submitted via any other format (email, fax, mailed paper copies) will NOT be reviewed.

Many of the questions have multiple components that must be answered. MIBLSI recommends that you write out your answers using this document. Then, electronically copy and paste your answers as plain text into the online questionnaire/application form.

IV. Supporting District Implementation: Essential Role of the Intermediate School District (ISD)

An ISD is a critical partner with local districts and the state education agency (SEA) to improve educational outcomes. The ISD supports to constituent districts can exist along a continuum ranging from providing professional learning (e.g., teaching practices, curriculum alignment) to coordinating special education programming, to assistance with district operating procedures (e.g., payroll, bus transportation services). Throughout the evolution of the MIBLSI project, the partnerships with ISDs have been greatly valued. In particular, the MIBLSI integrated model has emphasized developing local capacity at the ISD in MTSS coordination, training, coaching, and evaluation support to scale-up across the county/region an integrated behavior and reading MTSS framework with fidelity so that it sustains over time.

Even with the emphasis on a district application, MIBLSI continues to believe ISDs can play a critical role in supporting a local district's implementation of MTSS. The following ISD support roles to district applicants are possible:

- Coaching support in the form of systems-level coaching to the School Leadership Team and to the Grade-Level Teams.

- Data coordination support (support with on-going use of measures, and data systems post installation and initial implementation).

- Serving as member(s) of a District Implementation Team.

- Data systems, technology integration support.

- Content expertise.

District applicants who wish to request MTSS implementation support from the ISD will be asked to speak with ISD leadership about their request for support before submitting their application. ISD leadership will, in turn, be asked to provide the district with a signed letter outlining the support that will be provided from the ISD. The letter will be submitted with the district's application.

V. Requirements for Participation

The following describes considerations for the partnership between MIBLSI and a district:

- Willingness to implement an MTSS framework that integrates PBIS and Scientifically-Based Reading Research across schools within the district (perhaps with the exception of schools that have special populations such as alternative schools, center-based programs, or schools that have early childhood centers).

- Willingness to identify a District Implementation Team to be given the charge of planning, monitoring, problem solving, and continually improving implementation efforts across schools.

- Ability to identify personnel to perform critical roles:

  - Executive leadership to oversee and participate on a District Implementation Team.

- MTSS coordination.

- District Implementation Team member.

- Systems-level coaching for School Leadership Teams.

- Data Coordination (individuals who will learn how to administer, score, and interpret required assessments over time and support their effective use within the district).

- Ability to have the identified personnel outlined above to travel to a regional location to attend professional learning sessions to learn how to implement behavior and reading components of an MTSS framework.

- Ability to allocate resources to adopt and sustain for use, specific measures and data systems necessary for engaging in data-based problem solving at the school and district levels within designated timelines (See Appendix A of this application and the Rationale for Required Assessments on the application webpage (https://miblsi.org/application).

- Agreement to submit required assessment results (aggregate scores) using the Michigan Department of Education's MTSS Data System (MiMTSS) and to use reports and dashboards in the system for ongoing problem solving.

- Agreement to give select MIBLSI staff direct login access to specific data systems (e.g., SWIS, Acadience Data Management, OurSchoolData, DataHub) so they can provide data coordination (coaching) on the installation and use of the data systems.

- Sustained commitment by executive leadership to continuing to support MTSS components as a priority, on-going allocation of resources, and removal of barriers to implementation.

- Maintaining a focus on a four-year professional learning and data-based problem-solving series that will lead to high quality implementation and create the conditions for sustainability.

Michigan Department of Education's MTSS Data System (MiMTSS)

Schools and districts are required to enter data into MiMTSS so that it can be used for the following purposes:

- School-Level Data Review, Action Planning, and Continuous Improvement.
- District-Level Data Review, Action Planning, and Continuous Improvement.
- ISD-Level Data Review, Action Planning and Continuous Improvement (if applicable).
- MIBLSI's Internal Problem Solving, Continuous Improvement, and reporting to the Michigan Department of Education and U.S. Department of Education.

VI. Costs Associated with Implementation

MIBLSI is an intensive technical assistance program that is specifically funded to provide professional learning to partnering districts and their schools to assist in the implementation of an integrated behavior and reading MTSS framework. Therefore, project funds are used to support MIBLSI-created professional development and technical assistance activities (e.g., developing coaching, data coordination supports, and statewide capacity building opportunities) for behavior and reading MTSS components.

This project is not intended to cover the necessary costs associated with MTSS implementation within a given fiscal year and throughout the course of participation with the project. Consequently, applicants are strongly encouraged to leverage existing funding sources to offset implementation costs to develop, sustain, and scale-up local capacity for MTSS coordination, coaching, technical assistance, and data coordination. Funding and additional resources are not available through MIBLSI to participating districts beyond the project-sponsored technical assistance and professional development.

VII. MIBLSI Application Questions and Agreements—REQUIRED

The following questions should be answered online through the application survey (https://www.surveygizmo.com/s3/4807737/2019-2020-MIBLSI-Integrated-Model-District-Application). For responses to open-ended questions, it is helpful to type responses in this or another document and then paste as text into the online application system. The application system does not accept tables or other formatting (i.e., bold, underline, italics, paragraph spacing).
